Burberry's flagship store on New Bond Street has reopened after an extensive refurbishment. Located at numbers 21-23, it has a new-look minimalist interior showcasing a selection of the luxury brand's pieces and a new VIP area. "The store showcases our beautifully crafted products in a luxury setting that connects our customers with our brand and unique heritage."

SPRITZ O'CLOCK

A Mayfair resident has launched a new aperitif dubbed "the cocktail you should be drinking this summer". Malin Spano has created Pomello, a spirit that is a blend of pomello and elderflower and designed to be mixed with sparkling wine and served as a bittersweet spritz. Inspired by Malin's travels, the 18 per cent spirit is a pairing of Swedish culture (elderflower is a much-loved flower in Sweden) and LA lifestyle (pomello is grown in California). Pomello is served at the likes of Annabel's and Chucs Mayfair and is available to buy from Hedonism, Selfridges and pomello.world

JAZZ HANDS PLEASE

Running every Thursday until the end of August, listen to jazz, Latin and world sounds with St James's gin and St James's pink gin. Both bespoke gins have been created in support of the Piccadilly church, with £12 donated from each bottle.
